School Cost Will Be Cut In Next Year

Reduction In Salaries And Size Of Teaching Staff

The cost of operating Sierra Madre's grammar school during the next school year will be considerably reduced, according to President Rudolph Hartman of the school board. There will be a reduction in teachers' salaries and the teaching staff will be reduced by at least two persons.

"We hope the tax rate will be lower here," Mr. Hartman stated, "but we must not reduce our expenses so greatly that we endanger the school's efficiency."

The budget for the coming year will probably be ready for presentation at a meeting of the school board to be held June 15. Mr. Hartman added: Preparation of the budget has been greatly facilitated by data acquired by Mrs. Gilbert S. Bevard, board member, and himself at the Los Angeles County School Trustees, he revealed.

Although the cut in operating expenses is not likely to be as drastic as expected when the preparation of a budget began, Mr. Hartman said school expenses for the coming year will be decisively slashed.

Necessity for some anticipated curtailment has been somewhat minimized by assurances of increased appropriations by the county and the state.

Two members of the present teaching staff have given notice that their services will end with the completion of the present semester and Mr. Hartman says there will be no replacements.

Many school boards have already announced drastic reductions in operating costs. The latest San Gabriel Valley boards to act were those in Arcadia and San Marino. The latter resolved that its budget must be reduced enough to compensate for the reduction of 20 per cent in the assessed valuation. It plans a 10 per cent cut in the school tax rate and has voted the exclusion of all pupils not resident in the city.

In a number of valley cities and towns the teachers have attended meetings of the school boards and joined in the discussion of the necessities facing the school district, so that salary reductions were brought about by mutual agreement.

Big Shots At Chess Are Coming Here

Inter-City Matches And Exhibitions By Notables To Feature Tournament

Chess fans from throughout Southern California will gather here June 25 for play in the third annual Morphy Day celebration at the Masonic Temple. Play will start at 1 p. m.

The celebration, in honor of one of the most outstanding chess experts, will be featured by a simultaneous chess contest in which Richard Lyon, Southern California champion, and Sidney Weinbaum, of California Institute of Technology, will compete against 80 opponents.

Other matches include a 12 board contest between chess clubs of Pasadena and Long Beach; an exhibition of blindfold chess by Irving Spero, former champion of Ohio; a Ladies Simultaneous by Miss LaVie Mae Hines, of Pasadena, who is Womens Western Champion; a rapid transit event handled by Charles A. Broughton, of Pasadena, a chess expert and one-time nationally known artist. Other matches are being arranged.

The event, being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, in the third year of its existence, has grown into one of the biggest events in chess circles on the Pacific Coast.

New Honor Comes To This City's Noted Miniature Painter

Additional recognition has been accorded Ella Sheppard Bush, Sierra Madre's noted miniature painter, whose "Miss Bachman" was one of five miniature portraits awarded prizes during the recent Second International Exhibition at the Los Angeles Museum in Exposition Park.

Miss Bush, secretary of the California Society of Miniature Painters, and one of the jury of selection of the exhibition, had six miniatures in the show. Forty-six artists from all parts of the country were represented in the exhibit, which consisted of 157 miniatures.

The showing, sponsored by the California Society of Miniature Painters, was its 15th annual exhibit. One award was made by the group itself, and went to Martha Wheeler Baxter, of Santa Barbara, California, for "Woman in White." The other prizes were known as "Los Angeles Museum Awards for Miniature Painting for 1932."

The six miniatures exhibited by Miss Bush were "Mr. C. R. Birdsey," "Miss Bachman," "Celeste," "Grandmère," "Miss Margaret Griebel," and "Lorna Doone."

WORTH WHILE NEIGHBORS IN NO MEAN TOWN

YOU cannot escape a realization that you live among real people and in no mean town as you read in The News this week of the accomplishments of more of your worth while neighbors.

One of the country's most noted artists—a neighbor of yours—another award was made by a miniature painting; three local boys were elected by their fellow students to the three highest places in Pasadena Junior College; a Sierra Madre college Miss won first prize in an essay contest; two local players won honorable mention in a county-wide tournament; a college boy won first place in a country-wide contest in the writing of sports events and another local youth whose parents didn't even know he could ride a horse, won a prize by conquering an untamed bronco.

Just about every week you'll read in The News of the accomplishments of a few Sierra Madreans—how they have distinguished themselves and drawn attention to your city. Look around—know your neighbor.

Emergency Call Is Due On Sunday

City Wants Trophy In Mobilization Of Legion, Auxiliary And Boy Scouts

Members of Sierra Madre's American Legion post and Auxiliary, and Boy Scouts of both local troops, are not making any engagements for this Sunday. Although not officially set, Legion officials expect the National Legion Emergency call to be made this coming Sunday and are exerting every effort to poll a 100 per cent registration in the hope of winning recognition and a trophy for Sierra Madre.

Posts compete against one another for prizes, the most determined being the contests between posts of less than 100 members, which awards a silver cup to the group showing the greatest registration in the shortest possible time.

Some members of the local post are ill and unable to answer the call, but it was stressed that the cup probably can still be won if all well post members turn out. Answering the call will occupy less than 20 minutes, it was said, and consists merely in registering at the City Hall as soon after the emergency call as possible.

The emergency call in Sierra Madre will consist of three blasts of the fire siren.

In addition to the post award, winning districts win a cup.

Under the National plan for emergency calls, the call may be made on any Sunday between May 22 and June 12. Posts are not notified of the date until 24 hours before, when post commanders are informed of the zero hour. Members of the post, however, do not receive their notification until the alarm is sounded.

DOROTHEA COX WINS IN ESSAY CONTEST

Miss Dorothea Cox, a junior at Pasadena Junior College and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox of 711 Alta Vista Drive, has just been awarded first prize in the W.C.T.U. essay contest on her paper on the "Psychology of Drunkenness." School, county, State and National prizes will be awarded. Miss Cox's paper has been entered in the county contest. She will receive a cash award at the final assembly at the close of Pasadena Junior College for the summer holidays.

Breakfast Now Served At Church

Dean Bode Introduces Novel
Method Of Interesting
Young Folks Of Parish

Believe it or not, they now serve breakfast at church.

Churches for years held raffles and quilting bees. Then the modern influence set in and some even allowed dancing. Now the young people meet at breakfast to plan to dance. The world does move after all.

On Sunday Dean A. G. H. Bode, much loved spiritual leader of the Church of the Ascension, will be host at a Sunday breakfast for young people, which will be served in the parish house immediately following early church services.

The custom was inaugurated here May 11 when a dozen young people who had just been confirmed were guests at a breakfast "get together." The innovation was so popular that Dean Bode decided to make it a monthly custom. The meeting is open to members of the Young People's Society, their friends and any others interested. Approximately 20 will attend on Sunday.

Much interest has been shown in the breakfasts' menu. One person wondered if the bill of fare included fried chicken.

However it is simple. "You must say it is simple," Dean Bode said.

W. F. Thayer Laid To Rest In Glendale

Simple, Christian Science funeral services, attended only by members of the family, were held last Saturday at the Little Church of the Flowers for Wilbur Fenno Thayer, 81, of 187 West Montecito avenue. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Thayer, who died May 26 after an illness of several months, had resided in Sierra Madre about six years. During the last few years illness caused him to lead a retired existence. He was always a devoted family man, but his ailing health made the bonds even closer.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., in 1851, Mr. Thayer was too young to serve during the Civil War. His education was acquired in the schools of St. Louis.

During his early manhood he made a trip abroad with his brother, Frank, and upon his return engaged in the wholesale merchandising business in Boston, Mass., and Minneapolis, Minn. Accompanied by his family he moved to California in 1924, coming to this city two years later. One of his sons, Wilbur F. Thayer, Jr., an attorney, served as City Councilman in 1928. Another son, Donald, is nationally known for his abilities as a singer.

In addition to his sons, Mr. Thayer is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mabel J. Thayer, seven grandchildren, all residents of Sierra Madre, and a sister, Rev. Mrs. Edmund Alden Burnham, of Los Angeles.

FORMER ATTORNEY FOR THIS CITY DIES SUDDENLY IN UTAH

News of the death of Robert C. Wygant, former City Attorney here, was contained in dispatches received this week from the Sheriff at St. George, Utah, who was looking up relatives of the dead man.

Details of Wygant's death were not disclosed in the message, with the exception that he passed away last Thursday. The possibility, according to his daughter, Miss Beverly Wygant, of 1030 1/2 North Alvarado street, Los Angeles, is that he was the victim of a heart attack.

Wygant was born in Sibley, Iowa, 42 years ago. During the World War he served as a Major of Engineers in the First Division, and received wounds, which, according to some of his friends, may have contributed to his death.

ACCIDENT TO SAILOR POSTPONES WEDDING PLANNED FOR JUNE 1

Aboard his ship, the U. S. S. Maryland, on Friday, Edward Daily of 694 West Algeria avenue had his right hand caught in the powder chute during gun practice breaking all fingers and hand bones. It was thought at first, by surgeons on the hospital relief ship, that Daily's hand would have to be amputated but it will not be necessary although it is feared that he may never regain the full use of it. Mr. Daily and Miss Bernice Roe were to have been married on Wednesday June 1, but all plans for the wedding have been postponed indefinitely.

Merchants To Dine With Kiwanis Club

A joint luncheon meeting of the new Sierra Madre Merchants Association and the Kiwanis Club will be held at the Woman's Club House at 12 o'clock next Tuesday. City Business Manager Al S. Myers will be the principal speaker and there will be a discussion of matters of vital concern to the business interests of the city. The luncheon will be prepared by Mrs. William Lees—a guarantee of its excellence.

Local Boys Win Honors At Jaysee

City Gets Student President
Chief Justice And Men's
President At College

Riding on a wave of popularity, three Sierra Madre youths last Friday were voted into the chief student body administrative offices at Pasadena Junior College. The victorious youths were Jack Young, football and baseball star and artist, new student body president; Richard Young, chief justice of the student court, and Les Miller, football captain-elect, president of the associated men students.

The Sierra Madreans were swept into office in a hectic school election which practically ended student body activities for the year. Graduation events begin next week. All three were favorites of the students and were given nice majorities in the election.

Selection of Jack Young as chief of the junior college student body followed a heated campaign between three candidates that necessitated an elimination vote. In this poll the well-known Sierra Madre athlete led, but his (Continued on Page Six)

City Pays Tribute To Its Heroes

Memorial Day Observance
Eclipses Any Previous Effort By Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre's service organizations and hundreds of school children and private citizens last Monday joined in a simple but memorable tribute to the community's war dead.

The ceremonies were unostentatious, but as one onlooker remarked, "one of the most beautiful sights ever seen in Sierra Madre." A parade which comprised service organizations, Boy Scouts, school children, the fire department, representatives of the city's clergy, units from the Pasadena Junior College R.O.T.C., and cars containing private citizens, began the day's observance.

P. O. Nichols, Civil War veteran of 45 Olive street, rode in the honor position in the parade, being accompanied by Mrs. Nichols. He was the only one of the four resident Civil War veterans able to participate in the observance.

Approximately 150 children marched in the parade and attended the ceremonies. At the cemetery approximately the same number of older citizens were present, but this number doubled when the observance was transferred to the park.

Municipal Judge Charles L. Bogue, of Los Angeles, was the principal speaker at the second part of the observance, which was held in the park.

Col. H. B. Hersey, government weatherman and local resident, was Master of Ceremonies at the park and won much applause for his ability in handling the position of honor. Col. Hersey recited for his audience a bit of appropriate poetry authored by Harry S. Botsford, a close personal friend. The park ceremonies were opened by an address by Mayor H. Clay Reavis, who welcomed the audience and said a few fitting words.

The city's clergy participated in full strength. At the cemetery Rev. William Duncan Ogg delivered the invocation while Dean A. G. H. Bode made a short explanatory address. At the park Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey closed the observance with the Benediction.

Judge Bogue's topic was "Law Enforcement," and the responsibility that War veterans take in securing and maintaining it. He paid a special tribute to the Civil War veterans for "standing (Continued on Page Three)

Cloudy, Yes, But Col. Hersey Sees No Real Rain In Sight Now

Regardless of whether the mist spatters before your nose, it will not really rain this week end. With due attention to cloudy skies, this was the prediction of Col. H. B. Hersey, local weather prophet.

"Yes, it will be cloudy, and it will be misty, but there won't be any rain to amount to anything," he said. "This is just a little May weather overlapping into June."

City Takes Up Fight On Fire Hazard

Dead Line For Citizens To Make War On Weeds
Is Next Wednesday

Property owners have at last swung into a determined drive to rid the city of noxious weeds. Spurring the work forward is the quickly approaching deadline, June 8, when all lot clearing will be assumed by the city if not already finished by property owners.

Although the Red Cross Relief committee has endeavored to contract with out-of-town owners in an effort to supply the unemployed men had made house to owners a considerable portion of the cost as done under city contract, only a small portion have taken advantage of the proposal. Of 400 letters sent to out-of-town property owners only 50 replies were received. Twenty said the work had been done, or they were doing it personally; thirty asked for bids, of which 17 were accepted and the work done satisfactorily. Twelve bids are now awaiting action by the property owners.

The 17 clearing jobs were done at a total cost of $65.40, all of which was turned over to those doing the work. The 12 jobs which await action would turn over an additional $59.17 to the unemployed.

Merchants Team Wins By Forfeit

South Pasadena Protests Victory Won By Locals In Smashing Finish

A disputed umpire's decision brought the game between the Sierra Madre Merchants and South Pasadena's Sierra League entry to an abrupt end at the beginning of the ninth inning on Wednesday night.

When the inning opened the score was 3 to 0 in favor of South Pasadena. Then three Sierra Madreans got on base. It was two to one. Sanchez came up and hit deep into center field. The ball was fumbled when two South Pasadena fielders tangled. Meanwhile the three men on base scored, Sanchez circled the bases and also scored.

The argument was due to disagreement between the field umpire, and the ball and strike umpire, as to whether Sanchez touched the second sack. Penders, field umpire and a Sierra Madre man, contended he did. The ball and strike umpire, a South Pasadena man, contended he didn't. Summarized, it was as follows: If safe the score was 4 to 3 (Continued on Page Six)

Poppy Sale Is Huge Success; Nets Nice Sum For Disabled

More than $50 was raised by the Legion Auxiliary last week through the sale of poppies, according to announcement of Mrs. Roy Pickett. Approximately 500 poppies were sold by the nine petite "Poppy Girls," all daughters of legionnaires, and by members of the auxiliary, she said.

The Poppy Girls were posted on downtown streets and charmed many a hidden ten-cent piece from the pockets of pedestrians. Mrs. Waverly Pratt and three of the girls, Mary Ellen Harkness, Roberta Roberts and Finell Hill, attended the Wednesday meeting of the Woman's Club and succeeded in disposing of every poppy they had.

Mrs. Pickett said the sale had been successful beyond all expectations and extended her thanks and those of the Auxiliary to all who purchased the flowers, and to the following children and adults who participated in the sale: Mrs. A. H. Embree, Mrs. Louise Roe, Mrs. Henry Olsen, Mrs. Vincent Fleming, Mrs. Florence Jensen, Mrs. Dorothy Shetler, Mrs. C. N. Barker, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Frank Burroughs, Mrs. Waverly Pratt, Mrs. Colin Hill, Mrs. Lovejoy, George Haggood, George P. Rikeman, and the following nine Poppy Girls: Mary Alice Harkness, Finell Hill, Marjorie Velma, and Lela Pickett, Grace Jensen, Roberta Roberts, Idella Taylor and Mary Lou Lovejoy.

Two Win Laurels In Little Theatre Play Competition

In competitions with leading little theatres throughout Southern California, the Community Players of Sierra Madre gained two new laurels at the Los Angeles County Play Tournament last Saturday night. The play, "Job's Kinsfolk," was staged at the Los Angeles Junior College. Two of the actresses, Mrs. Alma Morgan and Mrs. J. C. Dickson, were awarded second and third honorable mention.

First play prize went to Verdugo's Little Theatre group for its "Lady in the Sack."

Tonight the local Players hold their regular monthly membership meeting. Business matters will be attended to, then two skits will be presented by Sierra Madreans. It is planned to have either Beverly Hills Little Theatre or some other similar group on the same program.

Judge Lasater's Report Boasted Of City's Record

THE late City Judge William R. Lasater was in the midst of his semi-annual report to the City Council when he was called beyond. The unfinished document with books and other records placed in the City Hall vault at the time of his death was found when the books and records of City Judge were turned over to Thomas W. Neale, appointee of the City Council.

In a preface to the report Judge Lasater had summarized the police and civil cases that had come before him during the year and then wrote as follows:

"The low crime record in Sierra Madre makes this city outstanding. During the first six months of the fiscal year the record showed half the cases found in the last six months of last year. We have had only one vagrant case."

In view of the general distress and unemployment condition our record is most unusual and one to be proud of. This fine condition is due to our efficient police protection and also to the method employed by the relief committee in taking care of those in need."

Anniversary Of Priest Is Celebrated

Community And Congregation Of St. Rita's Felicitate Rev. Father Clarey

Rev. Hyacinth Clarey, of St. Rita's Shrine, was the surprised honoree last Saturday, Sunday and Monday, of a series of receptions observing the 25th anniversary of his ordination.

In addition to being feted by members of the parish, Father Hyacinth was given the community's congratulations and felicitations Sunday afternoon when a delegation from the Kiwanis Club called on him at St. Rita's Shrine. The group consisted of Frank Spencer, president; Charles B. Klunk, William J. Lawless, A. F. Tegtmeyer, Dr. E. L. Jackson, W. E. Craig and Jack Hosford. The first of the tributes occurred Saturday evening when graduates of the parochial school held a reception. A banquet had been scheduled, but was deferred because of a conflict with certain parish duties of the priest.

Following addresses of tribute made by George Otte, John Colbert and Claire Clark, the children presented a musical program. Accordion selections were given by Seleste Annuncia, Group singing was joined in by the children, with Marjorie Bergien playing the organ.

The children also sang Mass during Sunday morning services, and went to Communion in a body as a special tribute to Father Hyacinth. They were James Woodward, Raymond O'Neill, Jos Hammond, Marjory Bradley, Mary Rita Schiltz, Patricia Trape, Dorothy Woerneck.

Sunday afternoon the adult members of the parish held a reception at which Father Hyacinth was guest of honor. At this time he was given a month's leave of absence, and presented with a purse donated by his parishioners. Ed Hoeval, in making the purse presentation, declared the sum contained in it was to give him something more to spend on his trip.

Two cakes, decorated in the silver motif appropriate to a 25th anniversary, were presented by Mary Rita Schiltz and Mrs. M. A. Otte. Mrs. Charles Young. (Continued on Page Four)

Hoover Home Here To Have 6 More Rooms

City Permit Calls For Extensive Alterations At Former Picard Estate

A permit has just been issued by the city for a six-room addition to the new Herbert Hoover, Jr., home at 500 North Sierra Madre avenue. The Hoovers also plan extensive alterations at the former Picard estate before they take up their residence here.

Boosted by these improvements Sierra Madre's building permit totals for May increased considerably over totals for 1931 and 1930, according to announcement by the building department. Last month 11 building permits totaled $9,087, compared with 1931 when eight permits reached $8,306, and 1930 when five permits reached $5,315.

Other building permits were: Mrs. Ida M. Kelly, 179 and 183 North Lima street, front porch; James Woods, 701 Skyline Drive, screen porch and interior plaster; Ted Rallsback, 233 West Grand View, new roof; Albert Wheeling, 85 East Central, private garage; Mrs. Eliza E. ## Pastor Tells Pillars Of A Community

Newspaper Rated As Bulwark Of Existence Along With School And Church

By Bill Burke
The induction of a new member and appointment of chairmen for coming meetings of the organization featured the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Woman's Clubhouse. L. R. Goshorn, editor and publisher of The News, attended the luncheon in his first official appearance as a member.

Mr. Goshorn was welcomed into the organization in an address by Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, who said the community newspaper is one of the bulwarks of community life and existence. He was gratified, he said, at being delegated to welcome to the club a man whose outlook on community affairs was similar to his own.

"The church, the school and the newspaper, the three pillars on which community life depends, have a tremendous opportunity to do work for the good of the community," he said.

Rev. Mr. Pritchard gave a brief discussion of the ideals upon which the Kiwanis organization was founded, and said peace and prosperity of any town depends upon the amount of cooperation shown by organizations and (Continued on Page Six)

Start Work On Another Race Track

Baldwin Park Jockey Club
To Compete With Course
Planned In Arcadia

Preliminary work started last week on the 220 acre site at Baldwin Park where the newly organized Baldwin Park Jockey Club intends to construct a $1,000,000 race track. Assurance that the track actually will be built was contained in an announcement made by Harry L. Lewis, director and manager of the Southern California Turf Breeders' Association.

The Baldwin Park Jockey Club is being backed by Jack Dempsey, John W. Considine Sr., William P. Kyne, Judge A. Albright, George Collins, Dr. Earle E. Brown, Douglas F. Mooers and R. S. Green, all outstanding sportsmen.

Equipment of the racing plant will include a mile track, two mile steeple chase, accommodations for 28,000 spectators and 1400 horses.

Mr. Lewis' statement said the track will employ 600 persons. The track is located six miles southeast of the Anita Baldwin ranch in Arcadia, on which a second race course, backed by Mrs. Anita Baldwin and J. M. Smoot, founder of the Hialeah course at Miami, Fla., is expected to be under way not later than September 15.

READER ADVOCATES
THE SIX-HOUR DAY

To the Editor of
The News:

Sir: For three years past all the world's wisecracks seem to have been at sea in a rudderless craft, not even knowing what port they were heading for, or even which way to steer.

Prosperity, they have insisted, was "just around the corner;" but which corner, and how to get there and to catch it, no one thus far has informed us. Simply if we would all yell "Good Times!" hard times would come again no more.

Even on the eve of a National election no possible plan is proposed by politicians of any party. At best palliatives providing funds for present temporary relief are propounded, but no permanent, radical remedy is recommended. Unemployment, hardship, even starvation daily claims more and more victims. The very thing that should have made all lives easier and happier has caused far-flung misfortune and misery.

Machines, every day more machines, do the work that required multitudes of mechanics in past centuries. No plans are promised, or even proposed, to meet this mechanical advance, which should, if rightly used, operate to benefit mankind by relieving the worker from the excessive toil which has been his lot in the handicraft age.

Does it not seem whimsical that the machine, which should be a benefit and blessing to all, has operated as a curse; which curse will continue unless common sense prevails?

Prosperity doesn't grow from hot air! Something must be DONE or hard times will continue and recur. Use the machine to liberate, not to enslave, humanity. Make it give leisure to afford every one time for mental and bodily improvement! Let all classes become leisured classes! If an eight-hour day keeps one-fourth of our workers out of employment and on the verge of starvation, make it a six-hour day, employ all, and Prosperity's corner will be turned.

Politicians might help by adopting Monroe's Doctrine "to recognize all de facto governments and to maintain friendly relations with them," and, moreover, to facilitate commerce by ridding the world of its hampering tariffs.

With the Scouts

Very Recently Field Executive Victor Teaney of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Council, paid a visit to Troop 2. At a meeting of the Patrol Leaders, Senior Patrol Leader and Scoutmasters, Mr. Teaney gave us information on many vital subjects ranging from our troop activities to making molds of leaves and signaling. Under his direction we have reorganized our weekly program and made several innovations. Among these are a new flag drill and roll call and several Scout games that help in teaching some of the tests and to brush up one's memory. At intervals during the instruction and planning, Mr. Teaney gave demonstrations in an enthusiastic way.

He also announced the summer opening of Camp Huntington. The camp will be open Friday afternoon and all day Saturday, beginning June 17 and lasting all summer. Scouts may come up to pass tests at these times. If they are not able to reach camp Friday night, they must get there by 9 a.m. Saturday.

Court of Honor will be held June 8, at St. Rita's Auditorium. A cordial welcome is extended to the public.

In A Social Way

In honor of Rev. and Mrs. G. E. Waddle of Santa Ana, a charming musical luncheon was given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. Nell Fies of 86 East Alhambra avenue, for out-of-town friends. Prof. R. B. Benner of Glendora, violinist; Rev. H. C. Benner, cellist; and Mrs. H. C. Benner, pianist, of Santa Monica, played a number of ensemble selections, and H. C. Benner rendered several piano solos. George Waddle, son of Rev. and Mrs. Waddle, was among the guests.

Poem Written For City's Celebration Of Decoration Day

Col. H. B. Hersey, acting as Master of Ceremonies during the Memorial Day exercises at the City Park, recited a poem entitled "Stewardship." The author, Harry S. Botsford, is a friend of Col. Hersey, and wrote the verse especially for use on this occasion. It follows:

Again we come with praise and flags and flowers,
With solemn dirge and muffled drum-beat slow,
To honor all those martial hosts of ours
Who served or fell in combat with the foe.

Thru many lands their scatter'd graves are flung,
But ev'ry hallowed spot of soldier clay
Above which "Taps" our bugle soft have rung,
Is part of our America today.
Or is our praise but service of the lip?
What shall we answer should some soldier-wraith
Demand the record of our stewardship?

Still must we fight indifference and wrong,
Must conquer selfish lust and greed of gain;
Still hold ideals which we have cherished long,
Or all our soldier dead have fought in vain.

steady as a rock" during the hectic days of the Reconstruction.

"They have always been a strong agency for the maintenance of law enforcement in the United States," he said.

Continuing, Judge Bogue declared that government is based upon "force," and can be maintained only by force against violence.

"Right now we are up against 'organized crime,'" he said. "We must use force, and we must join together to combat this enemy to peace and prosperity."

The jurist took notice of the school children in the audience, of which there were several hundred from both the public school and St. Rita's, and complimented them upon their attendance on such an occasion. "You should profit by the example you see here," he said. "Carry on, don't shirk your responsibilities."

The children took part in the observance, joining in singing several musical selections. Appropriate pieces were also played by the public school orchestra. The observance closed with the reading of the names of all Sierra Madre war dead, both those buried here and elsewhere, and the placing of wreaths upon the Honor Roll plaque and the captured gun by the Legion Auxiliary.

Hot Lead

By R. O. Cawkin
COMRADES, and fellow citizens, did you hear what Dean Bogue said about the Memorial Day parade? "The most beautiful sight that I have seen in Sierra Madre." The week-end holiday vacationists missed something that was good to look at and have a part in.

With the cooperation of the veterans of previous wars, the schools, churches, volunteer firemen, and unattached citizens, The American Legion and Auxiliary made Memorial Day a real success.

We youngsters of the World War were proud to march with the veteran of the Civil War, F. O. Nichols, who, for that matter, is a lively youngster, himself. He and Mrs. Nichols occupied the position of honor, next to the colors in line, seated in Milton's Lincoln, which was patriotically decorated, and driven by none other than our Mayor and comrade, Reavis. Thank you, Comrade and Mrs. Nichols, for your appearance in the day's activities.

Speaking of positions of honor, the conductor of this column thought that he was rather out in front, in command of the splendid company of school children. Congratulations, children, on your fine appearance and performance. Congratulations to Miss Settinberger and the teachers of both schools, also, on the results of the training given the children.

Look out for the call of the siren, comrades. Only this time, don't spend any time resisting, but come right on down and register at headquarters. It will be on a Sunday morning, very, very soon.

Past Commanders night, at our next meeting, ought to be good. Let us all rank and file be there and try to remember why we voted for them, when we did.

Streams And Trails Draw Thousands

Mountains Above City Ablaze With Wild Flowers— Resorts Report Big Crowds

Pleasant weekend weather, and a two and a half day holiday, combined last week to bring several thousand enthusiastic nature lovers into nearby Sierra Madre mountain canyons and resorts. It was like "the good old days," camp managers reported. A steady stream of hikers passed up the Mt. Wilson and Sturtevant Trails on Saturday and Sunday and on both days every pack animal in the Corum Stables on Sturtevant Trail made at least two trips into the mountains.

Prominent among the thousands were seekers of the elusive trout, who parked themselves and bait on the banks of many canyon streams as well as Big Santa Anita Dam. It was fine weather for the nimrods, and many good catches were reported.

Wild flowers are in bloom by the millions, resort owners report, and the mountains are a beautiful sight to behold. For those who like to hear the gurgle and burble of swiftly running brooks, there is also an attraction, for there is lots of water reported in every stream. More than 60 members of the Cabin Owners Ass'n gathered in Big Santa Anita Canyon Sunday for their annual picnic. The group consists of the owners of between 200 and 300 cabins. A deer rambling over the mountainside on Sunday was frightened by hikers and jumped over a cut made for the new Santa Anita Highway near Clarke's Halfway House and Recreation Center, falling onto the new roadway many feet below. It was instantly killed. The accident was reported to Constable Quiggle, of Monrovia, who removed the animal's body.

President of the Altar Society, presented Father Hyacinth with a gigantic bouquet of flowers. Father Edmund represented the Passionists Fathers order, having been delegated by Father Thomas Carter to pay that body's tribute to their fellow cleric. Reminiscences of Father Hyacinth's ordination were given by Father Leandro, who was present at that time, and who has been with Father Hyacinth practically ever since.

A high light of the reception was the presentation to Father Hyacinth of a program of the ordination of 25 years ago. This souvenir had been kept by Father Leandro, and was received by Father Hyacinth with much wonder and surprise.

Vocal selections were offered by Leslie Gaze, who was accompanied by his wife. George Eubers gave a number of piano selections. A banquet was given in Father Hyacinth's honor by the alumni and alumnae of the parochial school on Monday night.

Although giving the leave of absence, Father Hyacinth will be unable to leave for his proposed trip for some time, due to the difficulty at this time of securing a priest to assume his duties during the month. Fathers of the monastery are away on their missions at the moment, and are not available.

Father Hyacinth has not fully completed plans for his journey but expects to spend about three weeks in the north. "I have seen everything I'm interested in in the east," he said, "but I've never been north. I intend to go over that territory this time."

IN YOUR GARDEN

LOVELY DELPHINIUMS: BORDER OR BACKGROUND

DELPHINIUMS are incomparable for stateliness of form, delicacy of foliage and color, and when planted en masse for background or border, make a truly inspiring garden picture. Even the bees and humming birds come to pay their homage to these spires of beauty.

Because not all of the characteristics of the mother plants are inherited by the seedlings, delphiniums are prone to slightly change their color and form, and because of this diversity they are delightfully interesting. They are in great variety in dwarf, medium and tall sorts. Perhaps the most favored ones are the Hybrid Delphiniums, the flowers of which are in many forms, single, double, semi-double, etc. Many selections have been made during the past few years with the result that the flowers have been greatly increased in size and in petalage. Spikes have been lengthened and flower placement on the spikes has been improved.

Two varieties that have been sufficiently fixed that they come true from seed are Belladonna—a bright blue, and Bellamossa—a deep blue. These are very lovely for cutting purposes but for garden show the hybrids are undoubtedly preferable.

Delphinium culture is not difficult. A little care must be exercised in germinating the seeds, but once the plants are established they grow very easily. Seeds should be wrapped in a moist cloth or placed between moist blotters several days before planting. This method gives a much higher percentage of germination than if the seeds are planted dry. Sow the seeds in well-drained boxes or in flats filled with rich mellow soil which is thoroughly saturated with water before the seed is sown.

Sow in very shallow drills and cover with a light material (such as peat moss or something similar). Keep the bed dark and moist and cool during the period of germination. Water carefully. While they are still very small they may be transplanted to other flats or beds, and eventually to the garden. An occasional application of hydrated lime is beneficial after the plants are established in the garden. They respond gratefully to generous applications of water and also appreciate an occasional fertilization.

When a flower spike has finished blooming it should be cut to the ground. Other sprouts will grow from the roots. For one who is not equipped to grow the plants from seed, small plants can be secured which are all ready to set out.

This is about the end of the season for the planting of seeds for the annuals that mean so much to our gardens. With proper care and attention it is not too late to plant them for summer and early fall blooms. But the seed must go in now, while plants can be put out for some time yet.

If you would have a brilliant garden and an abundance of cut flowers set out now plants of zinnias, French and African marigolds, calendulas, asters, petunias, cosmos (emphasizing the orange cosmos), blue lobelia, salpiglossis, scabiosa, verbenas and algeria, all of which may be planted during June. It will be late to plant seeds for early fall flowers after June 10.

On a slope or bank that seems impossible to cover, use the orange red mesembryanthemum (ice plant) blooming April and May; or the purple sand verbenas or abronia, blooming all the year. Two permanent climbing shrubs for winter blooming: (plant now)—Bignonia Venusta, gorgeous orange colored, trumpet-shaped blossoms, and Hardenbergia, daisy clusters of pea shaped lavender and purple blooms. Both these climbers will furnish winter beauty.

"HULLABALOO" NEXT AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Fun, gaiety, new songs and tunes are promised in "Hullabaloo," smart musical revue, to be presented at the Pasadena Community Playhouse from June 9 to 18, following the current revival of the old Jules Verne melodrama "Around the World in Eighty Days," closing Saturday night, June 4.

The schedule is as follows: June 8—San Fernando Lemon Association, San Fernando Heights; June 9—Pomona Fruit Growers Exchange, 2nd street, Pomona; June 10—Covina Citrus Association, Covina; June 13—North Whittier Heights Citrus Association, North Whittier Heights; June 14—El Chinito Citrus Association, Rivera.

Beginning at about 10:30 A.M. each day equipment will be set up and orchard heaters tested during the morning, afternoon, and early evening. All growers who have heaters to be tested or others who are experimenting with types of equipment for the purpose of eliminating smoke are invited to bring in their equipment.

Advice is given that changes are being made in the form of tests which were made and any plans so far as equipment is concerned should wait until the latest information is available, which will be during this series.

Great Industry Looks Ahead

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

Practically without exception, California cooperatives are taking steps to guard against overproduction in the years to come, both by a controlled supply and also by increased demand.

The California Walnut Growers Association, looking ahead to a possible production of 55,000 tons in 1940, proposes to discourage new plantings.

As other steps in its program of achieving a balance between supply and demand, the association also contemplates that demand must be increased, prices of unshelled walnuts reduced, and part of the merchantable walnuts must be shelled.

California growers of citrus fruits, on the other hand, are looking largely to increased sales in foreign markets to maintain an even balance, as the United States demand is apparently satisfied, except for the normal increase which may be expected from population growth.

Exports of the California Fruit Growers Exchange for last season included more than 1,000,000 boxes of citrus fruit to Europe alone, while Canada, the most important export country, took 2,000,000 boxes. Transpacific shipments amounted to only 160,000 boxes, indicating that this market offers a good field for future development.

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler
ALL those who participated in the Memorial Day parade, the ceremonies at the cemetery and at the park, and those that assembled along the line of march and at the home and park, agreed there has never before been a Memorial Day so excellent in every way before in Sierra Madre.

When everyone is so enthusiastic and willing to do their share, either by taking an active part, or by being present to give their respectful attention, then always a successful program can be carried through. Every part of the entire ceremony was beautiful, interesting and full of the spirit of the day. We of the Auxiliary can feel pleased with the part we took in the commemorative services. Those gorgeous bouquets carried by members of our Auxiliary and placed as an act of homage on the last resting places of Sierra Madre's heroes, was our way of showing our organization either as a body or as individuals, "never forgets."

From personal conversations and remarks overheard, everyone agreed every part of the entire program on Monday morning was excellent. The march, speeches, music, flowers and even the famous sunshine of Sierra Madre all combined to animate the occasion with beauty and dignified enthusiasm.

The Auxiliary wishes to thank all who gave flowers on Decoration Day. The bouquets showed that many thoughtful persons saved their choicest blooms for this occasion. Three cheers, too, for the ladies that gathered up the flowers and made them into bouquets.

arrangements was the chief topic of the evening. Mrs. Arthur Embree, Mrs. Roy Pickett and Yours Truly were co-hostesses at the social time after the meeting adjourned. A lively time was had playing bunco, and forfeiting a colorful ticket every time the unlucky person used the words "I, yes, or no." When the tickets were counted Mrs. James Irvine had lost and Mrs. Waverly Pratt had won—both receiving prizes with absurd limericks. Mrs. Amelia Rothermel and Mrs. Ben Stinson carried home the Bunco prizes, also accompanied with a nonsensical verse.

The next Auxiliary meeting will be held Thursday, June 9th at 7:45 p.m. in the City Hall. Be there and place your nominations for delegates to the Oakland Convention.

Listen for the three blasts of the fire siren for the Emergency Call, one of these Sunday mornings, soon! And hustle down to the City Hall to register (after the manner of the famous three-letter slogan!)

Vacation Bible School At Bethany Begins On June 20

All children 13 years and under are invited.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MAKES 250 BOUQUETS FOR GRAVES

Members of the Friendship Club gathered in the garden of the Warren Preston home, 503 West Montecito avenue, on Saturday and assembled 250 bouquets of flowers, which were placed on the uncared-for graves of the local cemetery on Memorial Day.

Reception For Barkers Whose Hangings Include Oil And Water Colors

Joining the ranks of many Southern California art lovers who have acclaimed the work of both Mr. and Mrs. George Barker, Santa Monica painters, an enthusiastic audience last night thronged the Little Gallery at the City Hall at opening of the June exhibit.

Mrs. Barker, vice-chairman of the fine arts division of the Los Angeles District Woman's Clubs, works in water colors. A number of her best creations are included in the present exhibit. Her husband, who is president of the Santa Monica Art Association, and former art instructor in Polytechnic High school, Long Beach, exhibits in oil.

Many of the pictures on show here were viewed recently during the California Art Club exhibit. They also were shown at a recent exhibit of the Hollywood Woman's Club.

Much favorable criticism was expressed by the first nighters over the pictures hung on the north wall of the Little Gallery. All the water colors were praised for the "clean" color and execution.

A reception was held following opening of the exhibit, with more than 30 prominent Sierra Madreans serving as patrons and patronesses.

Miss Harriette Grant presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. F. B. Chamberlain and Mrs. Lyle M. Anderson served at the punch bowl.

in favor of Sierra Madre, with South Pasadena still to bat in the last half of the ninth. If out, the score was 3 to 2 in favor of South Pasadena, with the latter team still to bat.

South Pasadena, however, refused to play the game out. This, it is held, definitely gave the game to Sierra Madre. The matter will be thrashed out further when both teams appear at a protest meeting before league authorities.

Both teams will have an opportunity next Tuesday to even things up, no matter what happens, when South Pasadena comes here for the second scheduled game between the teams.

Arguments disregarded, the game was a closely fought, interesting contest until the ninth inning arrived. Both sides played first class ball, and the pitching was particularly good, only eight hits being registered by both sides.

Merchants Team Loses First Game

Playing their first game of the Sierra Night Ball season, the Sierra Madre Merchants last Thursday lost 15 to 4 to the El Monte team at El Monte. The game was marked by many errors on both sides and was practically a tryout contest for the assignment of playing positions in the local lineup.

All of Sierra Madre's four runs were "earned" while only six of the El Monte total belonged in that classification, though the latter was credited with 15 hits.

Boys Present Skit At Scout Court Of Honor Wednesday

Boy Scout Troops No. 1 and 2 will hold a Court of Honor at St. Rita's Auditorium Wednesday evening. Headlining the entertainment will be a skit, entitled "Mac's Decision," which will be presented by nine members of Troop No. 2.

Two members of Troop 2, Norman Jaeger and Richard Morago, will be awarded merit badges.

The entertainment program will also include an address by L. F. Stackhouse of South Pasadena, who will tell of experiences on an African expedition trip, and musical selections.

Everyone in Sierra Madre is cordially invited.

Young people of the Church of the Ascension do not hold Sunday evening meetings as do those of other churches. In the Church of the Ascension, however, the younger folk meet several times during the month for dances or some other social diversion. One of the purposes of the Sunday breakfasts is to give the young folks an opportunity to plan such affairs, as well as to become better acquainted with each other.

Dean Bode's twilight Sunday recital at 5 o'clock this Sunday afternoon will feature selections by Handel and French composers. The church choir will present Dean Bode's composition, "How Sweet the Name," during the recital.

Alhambra Fall Before Locals 8 To 2

Three Spectacular Catches By Hill Furnish Thrill For Fans; Other Games Here

Functioning like a well-oiled machine, the Sierra Madre Legion nine last Friday night rode over an Alhambra Legion team 8 to 2. The locals started right off by taking two runs in the first inning and were never headed.

The rule that a team is as strong as the pitcher held good in this game. Popperwill, Alhambra moundsman, was outpitched by Pratt and hit all over the field by the local batsmen. Pratt scored 13 strikeouts to 3 for Popperwill. Sierra Madre got 14 hits, Alhambra 4.

Colin Hill, who substituted in the sixth for Olsen in center field, featured the game with three spectacular catches. In the seventh the first man up dropped the ball just back of second and Hill caught it after an almost hopeless sprint. In the eighth Hagey, Alhambra shortstop, sent the ball out to him once more. His catch, after a sprint, retired the side. A similar catch in the last inning ended any hope Alhambra had of scoring.

Pickett and Young, first baseman and left fielder respectively, were outstanding as hitters for the evening. Pickett hit in 4 out of 5 tries and Young 3 out of 4.

Poor Base Running And Errors Spell Defeat For Locals

Bad base running and an over abundance of errors ended in a 10 to 9 defeat for the Legion nine after a close contest against San Marino last Tuesday night.

The game, played on the San Marino field, was more one sided than the score might indicate. Both sides totaled 14 hits. Only three of San Marino's 10 runs were earned. The others were due to errors by the locals. Both Pratt and Hayes, San Marino pitcher, walked one man each. Pratt struck out 9 and Hayes 5.

basis of 35 cents an hour. Work according to reports made by city inspectors, was excellent. The current economic condition has been responsible for the majority of local property owners doing the work themselves. In a number of cases, however, unemployed men had made house to house calls, asking for the job and submitting bids. A considerable number of jobs have resulted from this.

More than four score permits have been issued by the fire department since May 25 permitting lot owners to burn weeds off their property. Permits are issued either at police headquarters or by Robert W. Newberry, of 163 South Lima street, whose permits cover all property north of Grand View.

Fire Chief W. D. Richards issued the following warning relative to burning weeds:

"A permit is required if the weeds are to be burned after 9 a.m. Before that hour, providing there is no wind, no permit is necessary.

"Each lot should be cleared for five feet around the boundary lines so that no damage will be done to surrounding property. Always clear grass and weeds from beneath trees, otherwise the rising heat is liable to kill the tree. If a fire for any reason seems to be getting beyond control, summon help. Do not try to handle a task too great for your individual capacity."

OPEN HOUSE TODAY AT CHILDRENS HOME

Open house, which was to have been held on "Cinco de Mayo" (the fifth of May), at the Plaza Children's Home, 72 West Alhambra avenue, will take place this afternoon and evening. Rumors of contagion, which were circulated this week, were dispelled by the health officer who gave the school a clean bill of health and a permit for all the children to go to school. The celebration was postponed in May because of a light case of scarlet fever at the home.

The afternoon program at 3 o'clock will be primarily for out-of-town guests, but Sierra Madre friends, who cannot come in the evening, will be welcomed. In the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock the children, who are pupils of Mrs. Myrtle Hill, will give an interesting program.

WASHINGTONIANA EXHIBIT AT MUSEUM

How George Washington looked to his friends and neighbors was reported by one John Bell in 1779 in "A Sketch of Mr. Washington's Life and Character," now on display among three-score rare manuscripts and books comprising the Washingtoniana exhibit at the Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery, San Marino. This exhibit is available to the public until June 30.

Bell's sketch of Washington, conceded to be the first written by a native American, appeared as a supplement to Warton's "A Poetical Epistle to His Excellency George Washington, Esq.," printed in 1779 at Annapolis. The General was then "in the 47th year of his age" and the author presents a word-picture of his physical appearance and mental qualities which clearly stamps an impression of the man on the reader's mind. Of his mental and moral qualities, Bell writes, "he has an excellent understanding without much quickness; is strictly just, vigilant, and generous; an affectionate husband, a faithful friend, a father to the deserving soldier; gentle in his manners, in temper rather reserved; a total stranger to religious prejudices, which have so often excited Christians of one denomination to cut the throats of those of another; in his morals irreproachable; he was never known to exceed the bounds of a most rigid temperance."

Arrangements to see the Washington exhibition may be made by writing at once to the Huntington Library, San Marino, or by telephoning the Exhibitions Office, Wakefield 6141. Cards of admission are obtainable for any weekday afternoon but Monday.

townspeople with the institutions of a community.

Dr. J. L. Woehler was appointed by President Frank Spencer to serve as chairman next Tuesday when the Kiwanis Club pays host to the newly formed Merchants Associations. Invitations will be placed in the mails shortly, he said, and every member of both groups is urged to attend. City Business Manager Al S. Myers will be speaker.

Members of the club stood silently at their places for a brief moment in memory of the five departed members of the organization—Tasker Webster and Ray Grant, both past presidents, Dean Shaw, Louis Dietz and William B. Corum.

On June 14 the Monrovia Kiwanis Club will be guests of the local group, and will bring to this city the George Fillmore Cup, the trophy won by this Kiwanis division for having the largest divisional representation at the State meeting last year in Pasadena. The trophy always visits for a limited time with each member club in the winning division.

Waverly E. Pratt was appointed a chairman of the Annual "All Kiwanis Night" which will be held the latter part of the month at the William Lawless home. The night is observed in all Kiwanis clubs throughout the Nation, with club rites, such as salute to the flag, invocation and address by the president, occurring simultaneously in each group.

E. J. Westervelt of 715 Woodland Drive, spent last Friday in the vicinity of Banning, returning with a large quantity of luscious cherries, which were enjoyed by his neighbors.
